PROBE WAS ENDED AT NOON TODAY

Examiner Heck Compliments Newspapers for Accuracy of Report

WILL LEAVE WEDNESDAY

Will Take Some Time to Make Report—Jas. McCarthy Last Witness Called.

The probe is finished and all testimony in the water works investigation and in the different charges has been submitted to Examiner Heck. The probe was completed at 11:30 Saturday morning after five weeks of thorough search for mismanagement or something worse on the part of the city officials.

Never before have the affairs of the city of Newark been looked into so closely, and the investigation is bound to result in some good for present and future officials are bound to be more careful than they have heretofore, for now they know that they may at any time be subjected to a close examination regarding the way they are conducting the city's affairs.

Mr. Heck, the examiner, has made a host of friends during his stay here for his treatment of the witnesses was kindly and to every one he was courteous and friendly.

At the conclusion of the testimony he announced that the probe was over and through the papers he wishes to extend his thanks to every one who attended him in the examination. "The officials were courteous and gave me every assistance in my work and I found them a fine lot of men. The newspapers have helped wonderfully and I am greatly pleased at the manner in which they reported the testimony which was correct in detail and the readers of the papers who were interested in the probe were furnished the developments in an authentic manner."

J. S. Kuster, Jr., was put on the stand this morning and was asked regarding the action of council on several matters. He told of the improvement of the Sixth street park last summer and when asked why the cement walk was laid on the Church street side of the park, he said that when the Whrole Realty Co. built the wall in front of their property at Church and Seventh street it changed the grade of the old walk and the new walk was made necessary.

M. M. TAYLOR.
Service Director Taylor was the next witness and he was questioned about the park improvement. He told what was done and spoke of the cost. He also told of the building of the retaining walls on West Main street side of the bridge. He then told of how the city filled in the canal, widened and paved the streets that cross it. Mr. Taylor was then excused.

CLAS. WELLS.

City Engineer Wells was again put on the stand and testified regarding pipe that was left over from the York Construction Co. Several hundred feet of pipe cannot be accounted for and from all appearances the service of a clavoyant will be necessary to locate the missing "string."

WILLIAM WULFHOOPE.

City Auditor Wulfhoope was called and was asked if any assessments were made on any money collected from property owners on the private sewer in the alley west of Third street. He said the record did not show that money was collected.

He stated that bonds were issued by the city to pay for the paving of Union street. The amount was $3,255. He said the Ohio Electric Railway Co. paid their portion. Further questions relating to his office were answered by Mr. Wulfhoope. He said he was appointed city auditor by Mayor Arthur on March 30, 1909.

MRS. ADA MARAUTH.
Mrs. Maraugh was called and said she had been deputy auditor since March 30, 1902. She was questioned as to some details of the office.

J. H. NEWTON.

Editor Newton was asked to testify about the absence of an advertisement in the Advocate of November 16, 1909, of the city ordinance to vacate Webb street. An Advocate file was referred to, but this particular advertisement was missing, but a penciled notation was made on the margin of the paper and Mr. Newton was asked regarding the handwriting.

JAMES McCARTHY.
He was asked about the vacating of Webb street from Canal to Bareal street and he told of the advertisement of the petition in the Advocate. The ordinance was advertised Nov. 16, 1898. Mr. McCarthy said that a petition protesting against the closing of Webb street was never presented to property owners.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.
Prosecuting Attorney Smythe was on the stand Friday afternoon and was asked concerning the contract with the A. L. & W. Co. Mr. Smythe was at that time the city solicitor. Asked concerning whether or not the penalizing clause was binding or not, he said he thought it was.

He was asked concerning the Vatasan case, to be remembered the prayer of the petition for the injunction. Mr. Smythe replied he did and briefs and other court records were called upon in answering the questions. It wanted the bond said declared valid and asked that the bidders be required to return the bonds. Several other clauses were given in the prayer.

HUGH P. DEBORD

Mr. DeBord said he was a contractor and said in 1908 he did some street paving, he also mentioned some of his other jobs on the street. He said he paved Pearl street between North and Central, and Eddy street between Tenth and Buckingham. He was asked about his suit against the city when another bid was turned down, and this was thoroughly covered.

FRANK DEVALL.

Mr. Devall, another contractor, took the stand and testified on the paving matters of Newark. He was asked about different paving blocks and gave his opinion of them.

He said an inspector was put on the Pearl street job as soon as ground was broken and he drew $56 as inspector. On the Eddy street job, which was 167 feet shorter, Mr. Devall claimed the inspector drew $104 and didn't start to work until work was started on the end's line.

BELIEVED KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Ernest, Pa., Feb. 5.—Between 30 and 50 men are believed to have been killed in an explosion in Mine No. 2 of the Jefferson & Clearfield Coal & Iron company, about 10 o'clock today. But one of the men that entered the mine this morning has reached the surface. He told of fighting his way through the gaseous fumes until he reached the main tunnel and of stumbling over heaps of objects he believed to be fellow miners, who are either dead or stupified. The explosion was caused by mine dust. Officials and the coroner have arrived, but rescue work is being interrupted by the families of the entombed men crowding about the mine entrance.

The explosion occurred just after the main shift had started to work, and several men rescued near the entrance to the main tunnel are believed to be day men who had not penetrated to the interior. Reports are still conflicting as to the number of men in the mine at the time of the explosion. One report is that there were 165. Fifteen men are now known to have been taken out, many fatally injured. Mine Superintendent Reed is heading the rescue work. He believes many men are still entombed but has not been able to reach them. Physicians and nurses have been summoned from all surrounding towns. The rescue station of the Geological Survey at Pittsburgh has been notified and will start a crew equipped with oxygen helmets and other appliances to the mine at once.

BATTLE

Deciding Fate of Nicaragua May Be Fought Today in Managua, the Capital.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Feb. 5.—The deciding battle of the Nicaraguan revolution may be fought today in Managua, the capital. The administration army has been falling back, fighting desperately, since the provisional army began its advance from Acoyano. It has reached the shore of Lake Managua, 25 miles from the capital. No true estimate of the loss in yesterday's battle near Boaco has yet been received. It is believed between 200 and 300 were killed.

FRANK DEVALL.

Mr. Devall, another contractor, took the stand and testified on the paving matters of Newark. He was asked about different paving blocks and gave his opinion of them.

OFFICIALS

Plead Guilty to Indictment Charging Them With Restraint of Trade.

Marietta, Feb. 5.—The officers of the Marietta and Producers' Torpedo companies appeared in common pleas court this afternoon and pleaded guilty to the indictment charging them with forming a combination in restraint of trade. W. R. Goe, S. J. Kennedy, A. Oppenheim, M. E. McMurray were each fined $5 and costs. The company was fined $100 and costs. Other companies and officials will be indicted later.

SEWED ON MAN'S EAR

Massillon, Feb. 5.—As the culmination of a three days' christening celebration among the foreigners of Paganella, a part of Massillon, Mike Elavitski smashed a gallon jug over the head of Andy Salvaski, in John Pellock's boarding house, cutting off his left ear. Dr. N. W. Culbertson attached the severed member with 10 stitches and thinks it will grow fast. Salvaski's alleged assailant is being held in jail on a charge of assault and battery until his recovery is assured.

The explosion occurred just after the main shift had started to work, and several men rescued near the entrance to the main tunnel are believed to be day men who had not penetrated to the interior. Reports are still conflicting as to the number of men in the mine at the time of the explosion. One report is that there were 165. ## AN UNNECESSARY TRAGEDY

"He took cold, developed pneumonia and died." Too often is an unnecessary tragedy told in these few words.

Had he taken for the cold a pure food medicine to strengthen the body and drive out the impurities, pneumonia would not have developed.

Unfortunately, he either took no medicine at all or added to the poison in his system by taking the drug-laden patent medicines, called "ough syrups" and "balsams."

Father John's Medicine cures a cold and builds up the body without poisonous drugs; not a patent medicine.

NEWARK GETS BUCKEYE PRESS ASSOCIATION

Convention of Ohio Publishers to Convene in This City Thursday and Friday, March 3-4.

Word has been received by the Newark Board of Trade from Mr. Chester E. Bry, president of the Buckeye Press Association of Ohio, that the midwinter meeting of the association will be held in this city on Thursday, March 3 and Friday, March 4, 1910.

Indications are that 300 members of the association will be present, and no effort will be spared by our people to entertain them on the occasion of the visit to Newark.

The Buckeye Press Association is the only general editorial association of newspaper publishers in the country, and its constitution, regulations, and by-laws are eligible to Newark convention.

It is the largest gathering of editors and publishers ever assembled in Ohio, and it is to gather in Newark to make elaborate preparations for the meeting.

The Board of Trade is already deeply interested in the matter of this convention, for it realizes the immense advantages that will accrue to the city by the writers up that will appear in all the papers represented at the meeting, giving descriptions of the city, her manufacturing industries, etc. Preliminary steps have also been taken towards the preparation of a program which will include special features of entertainment that will no doubt make the stay of the visitors and their ladies during the convention most profitable and pleasant. The newspaper men of the city will effect an organization that will look after the pleasure of those who attend the convention, and while the program has not been definitely settled upon as yet, the outline shows that it will include features each day that will be interesting to the visitors. Of course the ladies, who are indispensable to every up-to-date publication in this day of progress and advancement, will be particularly looked after some special form of entertainment being provided for them.

Miss Dora Lise, of North Main street, will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Colville of Mt. Vernon.

Misses Ruth Bolen and Mary Louise Brown of Zanesville are the house guests of Miss Edythia Hall of West Locust street.

Miss Vera Steier of West Popular street, who has been confined to her home for the last two weeks with bronchitis, is convalescent.

Thomas and Jacob Carroll of Crawford county, O., who have been here on business for several days, left for Columbus Saturday morning.

George Shiflet Starts Rumpus at a Walnut Street Resort and Lands Behind Bars.

Curses and screams and the sound of breaking glass attracted Officer Germann's attention, and led to wholesale arrests by that policeman last night, resulting in one man going to the county jail to await action of the Common Pleas court. It was about 9:30 when the trouble started at Meyers' place on Walnut street and it was a bloody bit of trouble before the officer

A man giving the name of George Shiflet and claiming Columbus as his home, went on the rampage and the Meyers' house was the object of his anger for mattering under his breath he wrenched a picket from the fence and began breaking out the glass in the windows and door, while saying what he was going to do to anyone who interfered.

Sam Meyers was on the job and the two in a scuffle, with Shiflet getting Meyers' ear between his teeth. Meyers cursed and the women of the house screamed and then the policeman arrived. Both men were loaded into the patrol car and taken to the city prison and charged with fighting. Three women, giving the names of Mrs. E. Stone, Ethel McGhee and Hazel Hollbrook, were charged with being inmates of a disorderly house.

In police court this morning the story was told and Meyers was bound over to the Court of Common Pleas in the sum of $100. Failure to make up the bond sent him to the county jail. The cost of the prisoners were fined $5 and costs each.

Better Than Any Medicine

Gripe Cured and Her Health Restored

Thus wrote Mrs. Gibson of Harrells, Ala., who now enjoys good health after she had been a constant sufferer from gripe for years.

"I was 68 years old the 22nd of July. My health had been bad for several years, caused from gripe, and I find that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey does me more good than any medicine I have taken. I have been using it for nearly a year, and wish that I had known of it years ago. It is the best tasting whiskey I ever used. ### THREE BURGLARIES WERE REPORTED TO THE POLICE

Thieves Secure Little Plunder — Police Think Organized Gang is Working.

Three burglaries that occurred last night were reported to Chief of Police Zergenick this morning. But very little plunder was secured by the thieves who did not confine their efforts to the part of the city that the workmen do in a game seems to be the theory of the police who are working on the cases, but who so far have failed to find a clue that will warrant the making of arrests.

About 8:45, while Patrolman Hinger was making his rounds on South Second street he found the back door of Benner's grocery standing open, and a man was investigating. The door had been forced by the thief who only snatched $2 for his trouble as far as can be learned. While searching the store the policeman found a hatchet and a brace for a bat, and the tools were taken to police headquarters.

State vs. Frank Belcher, judgment rendered, finding defendant guilty of selling whisky contrary to the local option law, continued to next Saturday.

Defendants in liquor cases in which judgments of guilty were rendered will be tried Monday morning.

B. Frank Barnes, National Mutual Provident Association, judgment finding for the plaintiff for the amount of the policy, $150 and interest. Plaintiff had taken an assignment of the policy which had been issued upon the life of Jim Munch. The defendant was killed in Columbus by being crushed between an engine and a coal dock, while repairing the engine. The defense was that he had voluntarily exposed himself to obvious risk of injury contrary to the provisions of the terms of the policy of insurance.

H. C. Dicus vs. Rachel Allison et al., motion sustained to strike out certain portions of amended answer.

Judge Seward will not go to Mansfield Monday, other arrangements having been made as to the trial of the cases there.

LUNACY INQUEST.

For some time McManus has manifested indications that he was mentally unbalanced and imagined that he has numerous enemies who are after him. Drs. Turner and Stedman were the examining physicians. ## For Woman's Eye

Assembly hall looked very pretty last night in its decorations of the Alpha Pi fraternity colors, orange and black when the members entertained a large number of their friends with a dance. The hours were from eight-thirty to one and Parker's orchestra of Columbus rendered many new and popular airs for the dancers. A cozy den was arranged at one end of the hall and decorated with Alpha Pi pennants where the guests rested at intervals, and the lights were shaded with orange and black, casting a subdued glow over the merry crowd. A large Alpha Pi shield illuminated with electric lights, suspended at the end of the hall, added much brilliancy to the scene. At eleven o'clock a dainty luncheon was served in the balcony. ## The Facts About Peruna

Is Peruna an alcoholic beverage in disguise? Is it possible to use it as a substitute for whiskey? Do people buy Peruna and use it as a bitters, or a bancer?

It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate the falsity of such statements. Let any one go to the drug store and purchase a bottle of Peruna. Let him undertake to use it as a beverage, or take it as a medicine. It does considerably larger than those prescribed on the bottle. The dose of Peruna is much greater than that of alcohol. Nothing of the sort. Let any one try it and see.

Peruna is a medical compound quite heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients. If taken in doses larger than prescribed it would produce a strong drug effect. No one could take it as a beverage. If any one doubts these statements, try it and see. We know that Peruna cannot be used as a medicine; that it will not intoxicate; that it cannot be used as a substitute for whiskey. We guarantee that PERUNA CONTAINS NO CHYAF WHISKEY OR ANY OTHER WHISKEY, for that matter.

It contains a small per cent of cologne spirits, absolutely essential to dissolve and hold in solution medicinal ingredients, but the drugs contained in Peruna prohibit its use as a beverage. It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate this if they chose to do so.

Peruna is sold everywhere. THE INGREDIENTS ARE PLAINLY PRINTED ON EACH BOTTLE. It has been said over and over again the chemists have analysed Peruna and found it to contain only cubes of whiskey. Now we challenge any chemist to demonstrate any such statement.

Let any one who has even a smattering knowledge of chemistry purchase a bottle of Peruna and see whether or not it contains whiskey, find out for himself whether or not it is composed of cheap whiskey and cubes. Of course cubes is one of the ingredients of Peruna, but there are many other ingredients.

It contains hydrastis canadensis, corydalis formosa, collinsonia, and at least four other medicinal ingredients. To be sure, no chemist could analyze Peruna as to be able to identify the various medicinal ingredients. This is beyond the ability of any chemist. But any ordinary chemist would be able to say that Peruna is heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients of some kind in addition to cubes.

Now why are these statements repeated when their falsity could be easily demonstrated? Simply because there is continued hostility toward Peruna on the part of the medical profession. Very likely the magazines which took up the crusade against Peruna and denounced it as a cheap beverage were misled by statements of the medical profession. Probably they were sincere in their attitude towards it. But now, after all these things have been said and refuted, it would seem to be in order for such people to use a little fairness and common sense in the matter.

Every time any one says that Peruna is nothing but cheap whiskey and cubes he is telling a lie, an absolute falsehood. Most people intend to spread the truth. But the prevalent habit of repeating other people's statements without investigation as to their truth, has led many well-meaning people to say these false things about Peruna.

Used according to the directions on the bottle, PERUNA IS A SAN AND RELIABLE CATAHER REMEDY, but, like any other good medicine, taken in excess of those doses, it will produce drug effects very unpleasant to the person who takes it.

It is therefore up to every honest person to quit making such statements concerning Peruna, or acknowledge that he is repeating slanders about what he knows nothing. One might just as well say that Castor Oil is an insecticide if taken in large enough doses it will operate as a "bombe." If people never tried to see, but simply repeated such statements about Castor Oil, the majority of people would come to believe them. It is no easier to demonstrate such a statement about Castor Oil than it would be about Peruna.

Any one who takes Peruna knows that such statements are false. To say that Peruna is cheap whiskey and cubes may constitute good material for jokes on the vaudeville stage, but there is no excuse for any one who pretends to be truthful saying over again this oft-repeated falsehood.

THREE BURGLARS WERE REPORTED TO THE POLICE

Thieves Secure Little Plunder — Police Think Organized Gang is Working.

Three burglaries that occurred last night were reported to Chief of Police Ziegler this morning. But very little damage was secured by the thieves, who did not confine their efforts to the parts of the city that the work being done by a gang seems to be the theory of the police who are working on the cases, but who so far have failed to find a clue that will warrant the making of arrests.

About 8:45, while Patrolman Hiniger was making his rounds on South Second street he found the back door of Bennett's grocery standing open and made an investigation. The door had been forced by the thief who also started $2 for his trouble as far as he learned. When set that the store the policeman round a ladder and braced for a bit, and the tools were taken to police headquarters.

An open window at Bennett's office, South Third street, was the means of entrance for a thief who entered the place some time during the night, but who failed to secure any plunder. There is a safe in the office but it was not locked and the iron box in one of the compartments was found in the yard this morning. There was nothing in the box of any value. The fact that burglar had been in the place was not discovered until this morning, when it was reported to the police.

Bennett's grocery on East Main street was also entered during the night and when an investigation was made this morning, the only property missing was two postage stamps.

SUN DOG AND RAINBOW SEEN THIS MORNING

Many people in Newark were treated to a sight Saturday morning not often accorded dwellers on this mundane sphere. Shortly after the sun had topped the hills southeast of the city, the attention of numerous persons was attracted to an unusual phenomenon in the sky—the appearance of a "sun-dog" or mock sun a few degrees from the king of light, Old Sol, and over-topping all was a beautiful rainbow. The "sun-dog" which was clearly outlined, presented a most beautiful appearance.

There were several halos around the sun, and the mock sun or "sun dog" that shone visibly in the southern sky as seen from Newark, was undoubtedly caused by the reflection of the sun on the ice at Buckeye Lake.

The rainbow, which shone in the zenith of the sky is accounted for as being a reflection of the sun dog through a thin vapor of white clouds.

For Woman's Eye

Assembly hall looked very pretty last night in its decorations of the Alpha Pi fraternity colors—orange and black when the members entertained a large number of their friends with a dance. The hours were from eight-thirty to one and Parker's orchestra of Columbus rendered many new and popular airs for the dancers. A cozy den was arranged at one end of the hall and decorated with Alpha Pi ornaments where the guests rested at intervals, and the lights were shaded with orange and black, casting a subdued glow over the merry crowd. A large Alpha Pi shield illuminated with electric lights, suspended at the end of the hall, added much brilliancy to the scene. At eleven o'clock a sumptuous luncheon was served in the balcony. Not in many years has anything occurred that has so touched the hearts of humanity and excited the kindest sympathy as has the recent catastrophe that has visited France—the great flood which submerged Paris, the greatest of all the capitals of Europe. From all parts of the world messages of condolence and substantial aid have been pouring into the stricken city to cheer and aid the hundreds of thousands of homeless ones. In the city's great misfortune there have been some ghouls who have attempted to make capital out of others' misfortunes, and an effort was made by these unprincipled ones to boost the prices of all food stuffs. But the people rose up in their might and the result is that the price of all foods is the same as before the flood. That is France. Here in America public opinion is just beginning to wake up and to learn its power when properly and decently used.

Isn't that nice! While Taft's personal friend takes care of Ballinger before the committee, Taft himself takes care of Ballinger in the cabinet.

Thus all things work together for good to those who stand by the administration of Taft.

WOULD TEAR UP PRIMARY LAW

Republicans Higher Up Disown Their Offspring.

MUST HEAD OFF ONE DICK

Host of Amendments That Would Mangle Bronson's Creation Beyond Recognition—Majority Leaders Plan Through the Medium of the Woods-Langdon Bills, to Goldbrick the People of the State.

BY ORWELL C. RIDDLE.

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Enough amendments to the primary election law have been proposed so far this session to turn it upside-down and inside-out and put a new head on it and a new tail to it and knock off its horns and put out its eyes and disfigure it beyond recognition by friend or foe—if all of them were enacted.

For this primary law is a hybrid not classified in political zoology. You can't prove that it is a bird nor prove that it isn't a quadruped, with doubts still more vague and uncertain about the possibility of its being a centipede. It isn't exactly a reincarnation of Taurus in a china shop, nor does it belong to the fabled species of glaciators indigenous to mountains so steep that its legs on one side were longer than the other, which wise provision of nature was supposed to enable it to graze on almost perpendicular declivities without losing its equise.

It is not quite so bad off as the mule, either as to "pride of ancestry" or "hope of posterity." It was sired by Hiram S. Bronson, a Republican member of the house from Franklin county at the time, damned by almost everybody on both sides before and since, and accouched as "a Rep."

How these Republicans do muddle things and get all mussed up when they try to shield the g. o. p. from public scrutiny and indignation.

published far and wide, and seem to be entirely satisfactory to the people. Then comes the debate in the original branch of the legislature with flights or oratory for newspaper publicity and "home consumption" by the constituents, and the bill is passed substantially as introduced after the adoption of various amendments that materially strengthened it. The word goes forth that "a great victory has been won for the people." Then the people proceed to lose interest or give attention to some other seven-day wonder or sensation, and then begins the work of the fine Italian hand.

A bill does not become a law until it has passed both branches and receives the sanction of the governor either by specific approval or by default to either sign or veto within 10 days. If "a great victory for the people" is first won in the house it must next go through a similar course in the senate. If the bill first passes the senate it must next run the gauntlet of the house.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The storm center of the fight on high prices is here. Not only did the Anti Food Trust League, which has headquarters in this city, start in motion the meat boycott, but at least three separate investigations into the subject are actually under way here or are definitely projected. One of these is the inquiry by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, another by the house committee on the District of Columbia, and the third is the ways and means committee. Secretary Wilson has gone far enough with his investigation to come to one or two definite conclusions. One of these is that the farmer is not much benefited by high prices since he receives but little more than he did ten years ago. The secretary of agriculture therefore concludes that trusts and combinations are largely responsible for high prices. The District inquiry has not reached the point of announcing results, but testimony introduced before it indicates that combinations of local dealers, known as "little trusts," may have something to do with the matter. As for the investigation by the ways and means committee, Chairman Payne and Minority Leader Clark have been appointed a subcommittee to devise plans for the hearings. Payne has introduced a resolution in the house to empower the ways and means committee to make the inquiry. A number of other resolutions on the subject have been introduced in both the house and senate.

Tricks of this kind were played by this same legislature last year in the enactment of several measures which Governor Harmon vetoed in self-defense and defense of the people. Much of the same kind of work's to be expected before this session is over, as indicated by preliminary maneuvers with the chief "Republican measures," the Woods utility bill and Langdon tax bill.

Senator Rathburn of Meigs county seems to be unable to give up the inheritance tax, one of Governor Herrick's fads, which the legislature rejected four years ago.

The law to take official suit out of real widows and orphans for official failure to enforce tax laws against the living, was enacted upon the specific recommendation of Governor Herrick. It exempted inheritances below $3,000—not estates, but the inheritances of individual heirs. Thus an estate valued at $15,000 could escape the inheritance tax if equally divided between half a dozen heirs, while an estate valued at $7,000 would have to pay tax if there were but two heirs to share it equally. Or, an heir who inherited less than $3,000 would escape the tax while another heir to the same estate whose portion was over $3,000 would have to pay it.

In the attempt of Senator Rathburn to dig the inheritance tax out of its respected grave, the exemption is fixed at $5,000—but that is before the bill is passed. That makes it a heap better, now, doesn't it? If an inheritance tax is an evil at the $3,000 deadline, it is no less an evil at $5,000.

If raising the exemption purifies the proposition, why not make it "pure as snow" by raising the exemption to $30,000,000. The former inheritance tax didn't catch any millionaires anyway, for they found a way to beat it by an ante-mortem distribution of their wealth.

But the Republican majority of the legislature must have some kind of makeshift for "taxation reform," and this will do as well as any.

Senator Phare of Cleveland, evidently not satisfied with the Rathburn bill, introduced an inheritance tax bill that proposes a minimum exemption of $2,000. That would "catch more of the little flows." And yet it is more just in principle than the higher exemption of the Rathburn bill, for if an inheritance tax is a just tax for one it should be applied to all without discrimination, whether the estate to be divided is valued at $100 or $10,000.

By repealing the Longworth law the constitutional amendment to change the time of holding regular sessions of the legislature from even to odd-numbered years, so as to follow immediately after election, was lost. Not enough voters seemed to care whether the legislature met or not to vote on the question, and it failed by the negative effect of balloting that were not marked either for or against.

Now Senator Patterson of Ashland is trying to straighten out the tangle by a bill he has introduced to make the change the voter failed to make by constitutional amendment. To avoid annual sessions if some such plan is not adopted, he proposes to name the session to be held the year following election shall be the regular biennial session. That is "whipping the will around the stump," and the voters are expected to wink at it as being constitutional.

"Dollar Diplomacy." The dictionary of the present secretary of state has not escaped criticism. The three conspicuous acts up to this time have been the firing of Crane, the Nicaragua affair and the Manchurian note. In the Nicaragua matter the only objection was as to the form and tone of the communication given out and as to the possible alienation of the Latin American republics. As to the Crane and Manchurian episodes, the strictures have been more severe. They are in effect that J. Pierpont Morgan has been behind these diplomatic moves in the far east and that this government has been placed in the attitude practically of asking China to borrow money from Mr. Morgan.

So bitter has the opposition grown to this particular kind of state department procedure that it has come to be known as "dollar diplomacy."

It is a pleasure to watch the toast become crisp and brown, and then remove it from the G.E. Radiant Toaster at the precise moment it is done.

The General Electric Radiant Toaster

produces crisp, brown, toasts, on the dining room table. It makes toast by radiant heat—the correct way. The center of the bread becomes heated before the outside is browned over, thus allowing the necessary chemical changes to take place, without which toast is soggy in the middle and hard on the outside.

The General Electric Radiant Toaster lightens breakfast tasks and quickly pays for itself by saving time and bread. Come and see a demonstration of this electrical convenience.

MEETING

TOMORROW

Clark Dougherty Will Tell His Plans to the Fans at the Orpheum.

Will or will Newark have baseball this coming season? The fans are given the opportunity to answer this question now, for it is time for the Ohio State League managers to get started on the schedule drafting and looking after the many things that must be attended to before reporting time comes.

If Newark is to have a team the manager will have to start gathering his material, for the season is not a long way off and an entirely new squad will have to be trained for Newark. As was pointed in the Advocate Thursday evening, Clark Dougherty of Columbus is willing to finance a team for this city for he thinks Newark is a good ball town and is willing to back his judgment with his money.

He asks, however, that twenty fans of Newark purchase a season ticket at $50 each and in this manner the old indebtedness will be wiped out and the start will be a clean one.

Mr. Dougherty has asked the sport writers of the Newark papers to announce that he will be in the city Sunday afternoon to look the ground over and talk with any fans who wish to discuss the situation. To this end Manager Fenberg of the Orpheum has designated the use of the theatre tomorrow afternoon and Mr. Dougherty will outline his position.

This baseball meeting will be held immediately after the afternoon matinee, and the meeting will be free to every one and all the fans who are interested are urged to attend and hear the proposition explained. It is true that the fans have set their heart on Central League baseball and many favor the O. & P. as a second choice, but Newark can't find in either feature this summer and it we are to have baseball all it will have to be in the Ohio State.

This same circuit has furnished the fans some classy games the last two years, and while Newark was unfortunate in their teams, yet some great ball was played at that. If Mr. Dougherty's proposition is taken up we will start with a clean slate and a new gang of ball tossers will be here for the tryout season. He has said he would do his best to give us a first division club, and he will try to do it, for so doing he would make money for Newark fans will pay to see a winner, but a losing proposition does not appeal to them.

With the coming of spring the longing for baseball is as sure as death or taxes and if the fans want the game the proposition is clear. It is true that the fans have set their heart on Central League baseball and many favor the O. & P. as a second choice, but Newark can't find in either feature this summer and it we are to have baseball all it will have to be in the Ohio State.

This same circuit has furnished the fans some classy games the last two years, and while Newark was unfortunate in their teams, yet some great ball was played at that. Local Basketball Teams Take the Worthington Schools Over for Two Games.

The Newark high school basketball teams defeated the teams of the Worthington high school at the Armory last night, and by doing so kept up their reputation made early in the season. The girls' game was particularly fast, and the Newark team won by two goals thrown by Irma Alspaugh.

The boys' game was fast and clean but the Worthington lads were defeated by the score of 53 to 13. A good sized crowd was present and enjoyed both games.
